Tabung Haji and partners to sponsor English Language camps

KUALA LUMPUR: To improve students' command of English, Tabung Haji is partnering with corporations to organise language camps.

Tabung Haji chief operations officer Datuk Adi Azuan Abdul Ghani said the English camp, starting in July, would focus on schoolchildren who wanted to improve their proficiency.

"Tabung Haji has allocated more than RM1 million each year for student development programmes, and the English Language camp is one of the many programmes that we have planned for them.

"We want Malaysian students to not only read and write in English but also speak the language," he said after the Tabung Haji TaHa Club excellence awards ceremony here yesterday.

At the event, Tabung Haji presented awards to 100 school achievers, who are members of TaHa club, who excelled in their examinations last year.

Present were Tabung Haji customer service general manager Mohd Saimee Mat Som, branch operations manager Taha Pilus, and savings and withdrawal manager Mohd Ridwan Mohd Wahid.

Recipients were given a trophy, a certificate and RM200 for Ujian Pencapaian Sekolah Rendah, RM400 for Pengtaksiran Tingkatan 3 and RM500 for Sijil Pelajaran Malaysia.

Mohamad Zul Farhan Mohamed Hasnan, 19, from Malay College Kuala Kangsar, received the overall achievement award and received another RM300, on top of his SPM excellence award prize.

Zul Farhan, who scored nine As in his SPM last year, said he was grateful for the TaHa excellence award.

"I passed the interview and I believe my involvement in extra co-curricular activities was what helped me to clinch the award."
